Information About Reception of the Sacraments

The seven Sacraments of the Church were instituted by Christ to confer grace.

Sacrament of Baptism. Call the parish office to register for the parents' pre-Baptismal instruction. For adults seeking to enter the Church and be Baptized, contact our Religious Ed. Office.

Sacrament of Penance (Confession). Children in our religious education program and school are prepared for Confession at age seven, as part of First Communion preparation.

Sacrament of the Holy Eucharist. Children in our religious education program and school are prepared for First Communion at age seven. Adults seeking First Communion should contact our Religious Ed. Office.

Sacrament of Confirmation. Young people in our parish are prepared for reception of Confirmation in the ninth grade (age 14). For adults seeking Confirmation contact our Religious Ed. Office.

Sacrament of Marriage. Couples planning for Marriage are to contact a parish priest or deacon one year in advance to set the wedding date and plan for pre-Cana instruction.

Sacrament of Holy Orders. If you believe you have, or someone you know has, a vocation to the Priesthood or Diaconate, please contact one of our parish priests.

Anointing of the Sick. For the Sacrament of Anointing of the Sick (sometimes called "Last Rites") administered by a Priest, a person or immediate family member must make the request. Late night requests may not be able to be answered until the next day. For a visitation to the sick, or Holy Communion to the sick, contact our parish office.

Dear Parishioners,

The name of the month "January" comes from the name Roman god Janus. Janus had two faces: one face looking to the past and the other looking to the future. As we enter the new year of 2018, it is indeed a good time to prayerfully look back at the year that has just ended and to look with hope to the new year ahead of us. John Lennon in his 1971 hit, "Happy Christmas," said it well: "And so this is Christmas, and what have we done, another year over, and new one just begun."

What Have We Done? And so, at this time of year, we ask ourselves "and what have we done?" We ask ourselves a battery of questions about the year that just passed. We look back, hopefully not just to lament or just to celebrate, but rather to use that time of retrospection to determine how we can do better, what we need to change and how to move forward in the coming year.

To Thine Own Self. A review of the past year helps us to set goals and resolutions for the new year. But for us we perhaps often fall into the way of our culture by making mere wishes rather than making real and honest resolutions. The culture tells us that you can do and be anything you want; that sounds nice and uplifting, but it is not true. We have to be honest with ourselves and know our own limitations. One can wish and wish, but a blind man will not become a baseball umpire; a paraplegic will not become a tap dancer; Lucy may wish to get into Ricky's show on every episode of "I Love Lucy," but it is not in the cards; and I may want to be the center on the Philadelphia 76ers, but that is not going to happen. As the old saying goes, "If wishes were horses, beggars would ride!"

Of Wishcraft and Genies. So, for us, resolutions cannot be fantastical wishes that some genie will magically grant. No, for us resolutions must be real improvements: they identify things we should be doing but are not doing. They are changes we need to make and can make in our own life, by examining ways to overcome obstacles in our path that may keep us from the right path; the path to which Christ beckons us.

Climb Every Mountain. I am reminded of the song "Up Where We Belong" from the movie "An Officer and a Gentleman" – one of the lines in that song noted, "There are mountains in our way, but we climb a step every day." Resolutions are ways to make those steps and to climb those mountains in our life. In making those steps, Jesus Christ, our Lord and our God, is both our guide and our companion, and the one who can make our climb successful. Our faith in Christ and his Church is what allows us to move forward and move mountains! It is our resolutions this year and every year that should move us to put that faith in to action and allow the Lord to lead us forward.

Plan B? But what if we don't do that? What if we don't want to resolve to improve ourselves and move forward with Christ? Well, the alternative shuns resolutions and instead substitutes wishes. The alternative to moving forward is to simply spend your life looking back, and just wishing things were different. Or look at others and lamenting what they have and you don't and wishing for it to be otherwise. No plan, just disembodied wishes, and lament.

Same Old, same old? I am reminded of a song played on the radio during this time of year, by singer Dan Fogelberg, called "The Same Old Lang Syne." In that song, the singer spends his time looking back on an old relationship rather than looking forward. One Christmas Eve, the snow was falling beautifully, and he meets his old girlfriend. Amidst the beauty of the snow, the two people talk about old times, they reminisce, and they do all of those things we do when catching up with old friends. And as the snow continue to fall, they shared a beer in her car and talked and talked. And the singer then wishes, wishes, wishes that perhaps they could get back together and relive their former ways of life, their glory days, even though she is now married. But then, reality sets in, and the real world comes down on him like an anvil. And the two of them part ways – and she drives away. The singer then laments, "And as I turned to make my way back home, the snow turned into rain."

A Lot of Salt. This is what can happen to us when we tie ourselves to this world and are always looking backwards and not ahead. When we lament what others have that we don't. When we lament what was left behind. When we lament what could have been. There's nothing wrong with remembering, because it is the past that can help us with the present and the future. But we cannot languish there. That's what happened to Lot's wife. In the Book of Genesis, as Abraham and others looked ahead to the promised land, she looked back, and wound up frozen as a pillar of salt unable to ever look forward. I would commend any of you who are of this mindset, lament all you want, but life doesn't have an undo button – we must look forward. We can remember yesterday, but our eyes must be on tomorrow.

It is only when we look ahead to the promises of our Lord, to the hope of heaven, to the joys of faith, that we shall we be able to realize our New Year's Resolution of a new and strengthened life in union with God and his Holy Church... a Church that was born of his Son, who was born of his mother Mary, who pondered all of these things in her heart, and cooperated with God's grace to the fullest.

And so, let our resolution for this new year, and for every year to come, be this: To follow the example of Mary, the Mother of God, who trusted in the Lord, and who didn't fear the future, as she said, "Let it be unto me according to the thy word." Those ten little words are the ingredients of one big happy year ahead for us all in 2018. Mary, Mother of God, pray for us!

Yours in Christ,
Fr. James Lentini
Pastor

SCHOOL UPDATE

It was usually one of the weekends in March when you would find me down one of the aisles in Staples carefully scrutinizing the latest edition of the Meads Academic Daily Planners. I had become completely dependent upon my daily agenda book, and I was very particular as to the layout and design. More times than not, I'd leave it behind someplace in my travels leading to the added frustration of where I might have also left my keys. Thankfully, Mrs. Stant recognized the need for me to catch up with the times and she has my daily tasks carefully chronicled on-line in an effort that everyone with access can see to it that I am where I need to be at any given time. No easy task. And at this point, I still haven't found a way to keep up with my keys.

Calendars...New Years...for each of us the new-year doesn't always mean January 1st. It certainly doesn't for me. January 1st is just another day on the calendar and doesn't have any significance at all, it never has. I think it all depends upon the person. For some, the new year may well begin with the onset of Advent and the beginning of the Liturgical Year. For others, like me, the new-year begins with the best season of all...Back to School!! It is indeed, the most wonderful time of the year!! So, you see, everyone isn't bound to the same calendar year. The celebrations of a new year are subject to the individual as to when the festive toast to new beginnings is raised. I raise high my celebratory mug of hot tea on the first day of every school year!!

In the first trimester, we have great cause to cheer in the new-year and show our Crusader -pride all over the place! I hope you don't mind a brief overview of the year thus far.

- High fives and a loud ya-hooo go out to our UNDEFEATED field hockey team. Thanks to Coach Rippert and her expertise is guiding the girls through a superlative season.
- Congrats, too, go out to our outstanding girls Volleyball team who through sheer grit and determination made us all proud of their winning season under the expert eyes of Coach Jim and Coach Ken.
- We are so proud of Leilani A. who has been honored and named as second alto in the state. At the tender age of thirteen years Leilani has a most beautiful voice and plays a leading role in our school Mass Choir. Leilani will represent HC in the All-State Chorus performance later in the school year.
- Another reason for us to boast loud and proud is of the 97 new students we welcomed at the outset of the new-year. In the mix of those 97 new students were 17 new four year-olds who comprise our THIRD SECTION of Pre-K under the watchful and loving eyes of Mrs. Zappulo.
- So proud are we of our Visual Arts Department, our Music Department and our Marching Band who represent us in such grand style as we parade through town four different times a year, our expanding Technology Department, not to mention our solid curriculum and above average standardized test scores all making HC stand apart from the rest.
- We are also proud to be the only Pre-K through Grade 12 Catholic School in Kent County, Delaware. Students have the unique opportunity to attend HC for eleven years, conceivably and continue their Catholic education at STMA graduating with fifteen years of academic excellence, with an emphasis on Catholic values, healthy social relationships and a supportive environment.
- We are both humbled and proud of the respect our school is shown by the community of Dover. We are grateful for the invitation to represent our school at the Wreaths Across America event each December 16th. We are the only school in attendance and it is truly an honor for HC fourth grade students to lay wreaths in memory of the lives of those who have served our great country.
- We are proud to be serving the community that reaches as far south as the coastal beaches and as far north as Middletown in providing Catholic education to families who appreciate and seek out HC for our solid Catholic identity and nurturing environment. To have been a part of the community of Dover for the past 65 years is a tremendous source of pride, satisfaction, and honor.

All together now!! WE ARE #crusaderproud!
