The seven Sacraments of the Church were instituted by Christ to confer grace.

Sacrament of Baptism. Call the parish office to register for the parents' pre-Baptismal instruction. For adults seeking to enter the Church and be Baptized, contact our Religious Ed. Office.

Sacrament of Penance (Confession). Children in our religious education program and school are prepared for Confession at age seven, as part of First Communion preparation.

Sacrament of the Holy Eucharist. Children in our religious education program and school are prepared for First Communion at age seven. Adults seeking First Communion should contact our Religious Ed. Office Sacrament of Confirmation. Young people in our parish are prepared for reception of Confirmation in the ninth grade (age 14). For adults seeking Confirmation contact our Religious Ed. Office.

Sacrament of Marriage. Couples planning for Marriage are to contact a parish priest or deacon one year in advance to set the wedding date and plan for pre-Cana instruction.

Sacrament of Holy Orders. If you believe you have, or someone you know has, a vocation to the Priesthood or Diaconate, please contact one of our parish priests.

Anointing of the Sick. For the Sacrament of Anointing of the Sick (sometimes called "Last Rites") administered by a Priest, a person or immediate family member must make the request. Late night requests may not be able to be answered until the next day. For a visitation to the sick, or Holy Communion to the sick, contact our parish office.

Dear Parishioners,

An always prevalent sign of fall beginning in the mid-Atlantic area is that it is no longer possible to have a hot dog at Phillies game (that change over usually begins around October 1). But in spite of the Phillies lack of post-season action, fall is an incredible and beautiful time of the year — and all we have to do is sit back and enjoy it! It happens autumn-atically! For us in Delaware, this weekend usually marks the end of the late-summer season for beach traffic and the start of being able to use Route 1 in a non-stressful way again. What event marks this demarcation? Usually, it is the advent of the Columbus Day weekend. And in this column, I want to write a little about Christopher Columbus.

A Map Quest. Christopher Columbus is an important, and at times, a controversial figure in world history — and his holiday observance for us, marks more than just a change in temperature. Columbus was an intently Christian man of his era, and his faith informed much of what he did. For example, when planning for his voyage to “the new world” he used information from the Biblical book of Nehemiah for his computations to get from Portugal to Cipangu (Japan). In this, Columbus gets an A for effort, but an F for usable navigation... and we know he wound up far from his intended destination.

Eastside, Westside. Faith formed much of the way Columbus lived and led. It is posited that Columbus, unlike many sailors of his day, never used vulgarity or curse words. Likewise, he and his crew prayed vespers (evening prayer) each night of the voyage, and used acclamations about Jesus and Mary at the top and bottom of each hour, as they timed their journey. Then, in October of 1492, upon reaching the West Indies, which he thought were the East Indies, Columbus initiated the process of that would lead to the conversion of half of the world to our Savior Jesus Christ.

The Reign in Spain. Within 40 years of his arrival in “the new world,” the Spanish crown began a colonization of the new world that not only brought the Spanish language to an area stretching from the US southeast and southwest, through much of the Caribbean, and throughout most of Central and South America, but also brought the Catholic faith. By the 1530s, over 5,000,000 Indians in Mexico were baptized, the Franciscan order began to set up Churches and monasteries in this new land, and from then and until late 19th century, Spain sent over 15,000 missionaries to evangelize the new world. [Note: The Spanish influence stuck: Spanish is the main language of nearly all of Central America (sans Belize), and nearly all of South America (sans Brazil and the Guianas). It is likewise the second most spoken language in the USA.] Likewise, Columbus’ Catholic faith can be seen in the names of many “Saint”-named Islands of the Caribbean, as well as in the naming of Trinidad (meaning Trinity) and the Virgin Islands (honoring the 11,000+ virgins martyred along with St. Ursula back in the day).

As a result of Columbus’ bringing the truth of Jesus Christ to half of the earth that had not yet been evangelized, he started the process of developing a fully Christian western hemisphere, with Catholicism as its largest single religion. Columbus (an Italian from Genoa, who was financed by Spain, and sailed from Portugal) also opened the path for Brazil to be colonized by the Portuguese Empire, and allowing it to become the most populous Catholic nation on earth.

Another St. Christopher? And all of this started with Christopher Columbus. His efforts, were so crucial to the spread of the Gospel, that there was a move over the centuries to have him canonized as a saint. In the 19th century this movement reached its peak, finding favor with Pope Pius IX. However, upon examination of his life, it was found that Christopher Columbus had fathered a child out of wedlock, and that there was a lack of the required miracle attributable to him. Thus, his cause ran onto the rocks.

Knight Shift. Later in our American Catholic history, in the late 19th century, a Priest named Fr. Michael McGivney organized a new Catholic men’s fraternal group called The Knights of Columbus. Why Columbus? According to past Supreme Knight Carl A. Anderson, writing on the 500th anniversary of Columbus’ death in 2006, “[C]olumbus ... opened the Americas to Christianity, and we pause to remember why it is that we bear his name. At the time of our Orders founding, anti-Catholic sentiment in the United States continued to marginalize Catholics and Catholic immigrants simply because of their faith. As a result, in 1882, our founder, Father Michael J. McGivney... chose the name Knights of Columbus because the explorer was a Catholic who was nonetheless universally regarded as a national hero. By taking the name of Columbus, the Knights were able to remind the entire country of the Catholic roots of the New World, and to highlight the fact that faithful Catholics could also be good citizens[.]”

Monday, Monday. In much of Latin American there are, and have been for years, observances for Columbus; the United States came late to this holiday. In 1905, Colorado became the first state to institute Columbus Day, but by 1937, thanks to the lobbying of the Knights of Columbus, October 12, as Columbus Day became and remains a federal holiday (though now observed on a Monday). And so, on this Columbus Day weekend, regardless of what one thinks of the life of Christopher Columbus, the man, we should remind ourselves that his actions helped make a separated world, closer, and ultimately brought the Gospel to millions in the Americas.

Christ said: “Go, therefore, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you.” Today, let’s remind ourselves of the call to spread the Good News; in whatever waters we sail in life, and wherever we find ourselves, as faithful Catholics, we must always bring Christ with us and make him known to others!

Yours in Christ,
Fr. James Lentini
Pastor

SCHOOL UPDATE

It'll be here in just a few weeks, the stores have miles and miles of display aisles jammed and packed with cavity causing candy and the all-important attire for the evening---the Halloween costume. It will be the topic of discussion between the children, moms and dads for days to come. For it will be on that night that hordes of humanity will be clamoring at the front doors of homes in our neighborhood dressed in regalia of all sorts---some sweet and innocent, some menacing, some down-right scary but most in their super hero garb. So, I ask you--in the parlance of the day; what is a super-hero? What super-heroes do you see displayed nightly on the TV screen that are depicted in a favorable light saving the day? I'm going out on a limb and answer my own question; it's Spiderman, or Batman, or those Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles. These are the figures that will show up at my front door, these are the figures displayed on tee-shirts, lunch boxes, book bags, and binders! They are everywhere. They are the modern super-heroes. Now, I have no problem with a bit of whimsy...but I do take issue when the real super-heroes of our day go relatively unnoticed in favor of fictional characters possessed with unrealistic powers.

So that's why it's so important that we set one day aside every year to pay tribute to First Responders, the real-life men and women who, possessed with their God given skills, come to the aid and rescue of every citizen in the cities, towns, and villages across America twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week. There is no transformation into another fantastic, imaginary figure...they proudly wear their uniform and serve their fellow citizens with a dedication and commitment that goes beyond admirable. We welcomed the fire-fighters, the police officers, the paramedics, the CSI team, the K-9 Unit, the Drug Unit, Aviation (the helicopter landed on our field!!), the Motorcycle Unit, and the DSP Mounted Patrol Unit. The dignity and stateliness of those three horses was so impressive. Hands down...my favorite this year! Del-Dot brought their fun Bike rodeo for the fourth and fifth graders who demonstrated a bit of difficulty maneuvering the tricky course. Troopers Garnsey, Sterner, and Bratz provided age-appropriate Stranger-Danger presentations for the ELC along with our first and second graders.

It was the ELC students who had a touch of realism added to their demonstration when fire-fighters Byron and Godwin (HC alum) received a call for an auto fire in town. They quickly suited up, jumped in the truck, siren on, lights flashing and off they went. Mrs. McGowan led the children in prayer and before we knew it, the fire-truck was back safe and sound. Real-life heroes at work!

It was a fabulous day for Holy Cross and I am eternally grateful to Trooper Angela Garnsey who has spearheaded this event for us for the past three years. With each year, it just gets bigger and better! Grateful too, am I for the enthusiasm of the participants who told me time and again how they appreciated taking part in the day's activities.

May God bless our First-Responders who have dedicated their lives to our safety and the protection of our communities. May we teach our children to respect and honor these real-life heroes at work!
