Information About Reception of the Sacraments

The seven Sacraments of the Church were instituted by Christ to confer grace.

Sacrament of Baptism. Call the parish office to register for the parents' pre-Baptismal instruction. For adults seeking to enter the Church and be Baptized, contact our Religious Ed. Office.

Sacrament of Penance (Confession). Children in our religious education program and school are prepared for Confession at age seven, as part of First Communion preparation.

Sacrament of the Holy Eucharist. Children in our religious education program and school are prepared for First Communion at age seven. Adults seeking First Communion should contact our Religious Ed. Office

Sacrament of Confirmation. Young people in our parish are prepared for reception of Confirmation in the ninth grade (age 14). For adults seeking Confirmation contact our Religious Ed. Office.

Sacrament of Marriage. Couples planning for Marriage are to contact a parish priest or deacon one year in advance to set the wedding date and plan for pre-Cana instruction.

Sacrament of Holy Orders. If you believe you have, or someone you know has, a vocation to the Priesthood or Diaconate, please contact one of our parish priests.

Anointing of the Sick. For the Sacrament of Anointing of the Sick (sometimes called "Last Rites") administered by a Priest, a person or immediate family member must make the request. Late night requests may not be able to be answered until the next day. For a visitation to the sick, or Holy Communion to the sick, contact our parish office.

Dear Parishioners,

The number seven has a special understanding within the tradition of Scripture, and indeed within our Catholic faith. Seven is deemed the “perfect number.” Thus, we see that number frequently in our faith: there are seven Sacraments, seven Corporal/Spiritual Works of Mercy, seven Gifts of the Holy Spirit, seven Sorrows of the Virgin Mary, and many others. Our faith is a veritable cornucopia of septuplicate observances!

Of Brides, Brothers and Samurai. However, this column is not being brought to you by the number seven. This column is, rather, about the number eight. It asserted within Catholic tradition that the number eight (i.e., eight of something), can be deemed analogous to perfection plus one. Eight is kind of analogous to being “all that and a bag of chips,” as the saying goes – the eighth item or observance is the aforementioned “bag of chips” that tops off “all that.” That being said, the number eight is certainly not as commonly found in scripture and faith, as seven. Even in pop culture that is true. For instance, in movies titles, seven is a huge number. There were the movies: “Seven Samurai,” “The Magnificent Seven,” “Seven Years in Tibet” (which felt like 30 years in a movie theatre), “The Seven-Year Itch,” “Seven Days in May,” and the double delight of “Seven Brides for Seven Brothers.” And was there a “Police Academy VII”? My goodness, I hope not.

What’s in the Duffle Bag? But, what about the number eight in our world? Okay, well, in song, there was “Eight Days a Week” by the Beatles. In movies? There were two films I can think of “Super 8,” and, the abjectly bizarre “Eight Heads in a Duffle Bag.” But when pondering “eight” – it certainly ain’t no seven, in the pop culture realm. But for this column, like the title of the 1976 TV series, “Eight is Enough.”

Eight Over Seven. In our Catholic faith we have a great tradition of using the number eight. For instance, when speaking of a holy period of eight days – the Church calls that holy eight day period “an octave” (from the Latin octava, meaning eight). Currently, the Church observes two designated “octaves” or eight-day periods; The Octave of Christmas (December 25 to January 1) and the Octave of Easter (Easter Sunday through the Second Sunday of Easter). During these Octave Days, every day is supposed to be a holy celebration reflecting back to that first day of the Octave (i.e., Christmas and Easter).

Eight Days in the Eighth Month. In the history of the Church, there have been many other Octaves, now no longer observed. One of those Octaves was the Octave of the Assumption, which used to be in May. In some sense, we still have a vestige of that Octave built upon the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary (August 15). You see, there is an eight day period in this the eighth month, which starts on the Solemnity of the Assumption (August 15) and ends on the Memorial of the Queenship of Mary (August 22). In very many ways, this can spiritually -- though not formally -- be understood as an Octave period during which we reflect on Mary’s Assumption, and her being crowned as Queen of Heaven and Earth.

Pius Thoughts. Pope Pius XII, who established the holy day for the Queenship of Mary in 1955, made his declaration on this matter in a document entitled, “Ad Caeli Reginam” (Queen of Heaven). Later that year, he expounded on his understanding of what Mary’s Queenship means. He said: “Jesus is King throughout all eternity by nature and by right of conquest: through Him, with Him, and subordinate to Him, Mary is Queen by grace, by divine relationship, by right of conquest, and by singular choice [of the Father].”

Papal Reminders. What all this means is this? When the Pope spoke of Christ being King by his very nature, he reminds us that Mary is Queen, but only by “divine relationship” to Him. When the Pope spoke of Christ being a King by conquest (over evil), he reminds us that Mary shared in that battle against that nasty ol’ serpent by her cooperation with God’s plan of salvation. When the Pope spoke of Mary as Queen “by singular choice of the Father,” he reminds us that, Mary’s Queenship, like our existence, is dependent, always, on God’s choice, not ours.

More than a Game of Thrones. Here is something to ponder as we approach the Queenship of Mary: In most traditional monarchies throughout history, one became a Queen in one of two ways: (1) by being the wife of a King and becoming Queen by title via marriage or (2) by being the eldest daughter in the lineage for a throne that lacks a male heir. Neither of these manners of Queenship apply to Mary. In fact, Mary came to her Queenship not by being married to a King, or by being the eldest daughter of a King, but rather by giving birth to a King. This is a unique way for one to have won the crown of Queenship. What does these mean for us? Well, just as Mary won her crown of Queenship by bringing Christ into the world on that first Christmas, so too, we, in imitation of Mary, seek the crown of our salvation likewise, by bringing Christ into the world: by making him known in our prayers, in our words and in our deeds. In fact, we should seek to win that precious crown of salvation by the manner in which we live our lives in service to Him, our Lord, our Savior, the Son of God and the Son of Mary.

Who’s Hailing Who? I often note, that in the English rendition of the Hail Mary, we make it sound like we are hailing Mary (i.e., “Hail Mary, full of grace,” etc.). However, in the Spanish recitation of the same prayer, it is made clear who is honoring and hailing Mary: “Dios te salve Maria, llena eres de gracia,” (“God hails you, Mary, full of grace.”) This holy day, this Queenship of Mary, doesn’t just honor our Blessed Mother, it also, and more importantly, honors the truth that God honors Mary, and blesses us by making her Our Queen. God indeed does hail Mary, and on the day of her Queenship – and every day of our lives -- we should do likewise.

Yours in Christ,
Fr. James Lentini
Pastor

SCHOOL UPDATE

Time is so relative. The trite cliché time flies when you're having fun is so true. Let's consider...let's say... 45 minutes; three quarters of an hour....twenty seven hundred seconds! In theory, a lot can be accomplished in 45 minutes. The time flies by when you find yourself engaged! This is not so true when you find yourself standing in a line for 45 minutes. Standing in a line that isn't moving, standing for 45 minutes is interminable! I speak from experience....I know of what I speak.

Fortunately, I am not alone in this line that doesn't move so much as a single inch in 45 minutes. As I stand miserably idle (under the beating sun!) I observe as folks of all ages come from seemingly all directions to join me in this line that quickly grows ever longer and circuitous over time. Everyone seems friendly as incidental conversations strike up between strangers who have assembled, all of whom possess one common objective. The idle thought crosses my mind that those poor souls forming at the back of this serpentine line have a lot longer than 45 minutes to wait. And then finally, those steel rolling doors are pushed skyward and there appear the ladies behind the counter who are open for business!

So, what is the grand prize, the great treasure we have all made the sacrifice to remain in one place for 45 minutes in great anticipation of the 7:00 hour? Well....let me tell you; it's the much beloved deep fried, over-spiced oyster fritter served in between two slices of white bread. Yes, that's what drives me to make the great sacrifice of valuable time to stand in a line of virtual strangers for 45 endless minutes. Now here's the irony, the proverbial kicker; I don't even eat them. I don't like them at all. But, my family does. And I don't want my father-in-law to stand in line alone, so I go with him to buy these delectable delights (not really) that everyone in my family enjoys...but not me. Its carnival time in my small town and I am not exaggerating when I say that people come from near and very far for these oyster fritters! They're huge, making the two slices of bread they sit between look the size of biscuits.

I'm no martyr...and I don't relay this story because I seek sympathy, admiration, appreciation or anything of the sort. I relay this story because I think there's a lot to be said for commitment, dedication, and doing something that isn't easy, but benefits others.

It's nearing the end of the summer season. Thoughts are shifting more towards the onset of the school year. Local retailers are hawking great bargains on school supplies. The work on summer packets is reaching an end. September lunches are being ordered and calendar dates are set for the New Family Night, Meet the Teacher Day, and the Back to School Bash....not to mention the great Open House events. Truthfully; many joyfully anticipate the beginning of a new school year. But with that comes a sense of commitment, dedication, and doing the right thing that isn't always easy, but benefits others. This time I speak of the sacrifice made by our families to provide their children with the gift of a Catholic education. It is a great sacrifice for some....but the end decision is that the investment is priceless and the return is everlasting. I rejoice when I tell you that we have enrolled thirty two new families thus far for the new-year at Holy Cross School. Thirty two new families who have come from near and very far for the great prize; the valuable treasure found in a Catholic school education characterized by the deep spiritual immersion that balances the general education classes which feature our strong curriculum under the instruction of passionate educators. The learned sense of civic responsibility and engagement; the fine arts classes, and the opportunity for Christian and sportsmanlike team play, all of which abound in Catholic education. Today there are many schools to choose from. In fact, the choices are so many that it easily leads to confusion and a sense of indecision. Don't stand idle contemplating the right decision for your child. The right decision is found in a Catholic education. It's been the right decision for over 65 years at Holy Cross.

Custom Rosary for Diocese 150th Anniversary

A custom-designed, limited-edition, dark red and gold rosary is now available to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the Catholic Diocese of Wilmington. The rosaries, made in Italy by the Ghirelli Company, were blessed at the Vatican by Pope Francis on June 6, 2018 during His Holiness' Weekly Audience in Saint Peter's Square.

The Official Custom Rosary of the Diocese of Wilmington's 150th Anniversary features a crucifix that is designed after the beautiful crucifix in the Cathedral of Saint Peter in Wilmington. The back of the crucifix is engraved with the words, "Catholic Diocese of Wilmington 150th Anniversary 1868-2018." The front of the rosary's centerpiece holds an image of the Blessed Mother from the famous Charles Parks Our Lady of Queen of Peace statue located on the grounds of Holy Spirit Church in New Castle, Delaware. On the centerpiece's reverse, is an image of Saint Francis de Sales, the Patron Saint of the Diocese of Wilmington. In place of the traditional "Our Father" beads, the rosary has a medal crest of the Diocese of Wilmington, with a map of Delaware and Maryland's Eastern Shore on the back, indicating the twelve counties that comprise the Diocese. All beads are 8 mm dark red Bohemian glass, while the chain and custom features are made of antique gold finish medal. The rosary comes in a commemorative color pouch, and is available for a suggested $30.00 donation each, plus shipping and handling. Detailed photographs of the rosary, and an order form are available online at www.cdow.org/150th.
