Information About Reception of the Sacraments

The seven Sacraments of the Church were instituted by Christ to confer grace.

Sacrament of Baptism. Call the parish office to register for the parents' pre-Baptismal instruction. For adults seeking to enter the Church and be Baptized, contact our Religious Ed. Office.

Sacrament of Penance (Confession). Children in our religious education program and school are prepared for Confession at age seven, as part of First Communion preparation.

Sacrament of the Holy Eucharist. Children in our religious education program and school are prepared for First Communion at age seven. Adults seeking First Communion should contact our Religious Ed. Office Sacrament of Confirmation. Young people in our parish are prepared for reception of Confirmation in the ninth grade (age 14). For adults seeking Confirmation contact our Religious Ed. Office.

Sacrament of Marriage. Couples planning for Marriage are to contact a parish priest or deacon one year in advance to set the wedding date and plan for pre-Cana instruction.

Sacrament of Holy Orders. If you believe you have, or someone you know has, a vocation to the Priesthood or Diaconate, please contact one of our parish priests.

Anointing of the Sick. For the Sacrament of Anointing of the Sick (sometimes called "Last Rites") administered by a Priest, a person or immediate family member must make the request. Late night requests may not be able to be answered until the next day. For a visitation to the sick, or Holy Communion to the sick, contact our parish office.

Dear Parishioners,

Friday, September 14 was the Feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross. While it is, of course, the patronal feast day and a solemnity ("high holy day") for Holy Cross Parish, it is also a high-ranking and important feast day throughout the entire universal Church for every member of the faithful. (Note: This feast will also be observed at Sunday Masses as Holy Cross, too.) Since the Exaltation of the Holy Cross is a major holy day of the Church year, I make a point, each year, to give a reminder about background and basis for what this special day celebrates and observes.

Cross Reference. So, what exactly does the Feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross commemorate? Some might think – based on the name of this holy day – that this is the day we commemorate Christ's death on the cross for our sins. Or perhaps, we celebrate the conquest of the death and sin through the cross of our Lord. Well, in truth, while those are beautiful ways to reflect on the Cross, neither of those considerations are the basis for this feast day.

No So Mighty Aphrodite. The Feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross, in fact, has more to do with St. Helena and the Emperor Heraclius, than anything else. So, let us step into the Wayback Machine and set the dial for the year 326 A.D. In that year, St. Helena, the mother of the Roman Emperor Constantine, went on a pilgrimage to the Holy Lands to visit the key sites connected to the life, death and resurrection of Christ. One of her first stops was to an abandoned temple dedicated to the Greek goddess Aphrodite. It was said that this temple was built over the sepulcher (tomb) in which Christ's body was reposed following his death on the Cross.

At Cross Purposes. Emperor Constantine decreed that this temple should be torn down, and that a Church dedicated as the Church of the Holy Sepulcher should be built. And so, it was. While starting work on the new Church, some excavation was done, and three crosses were found buried under the site of the tomb. Evidence indicated that these were the crosses from Calvary from Good Friday; they had likely been buried to protect them from the Roman authorities in the time after the Crucifixion. One of the crosses that was found healed a diseased woman who touched it; this miraculous cure served as evidence that this was the Cross on which hung the Savior of the world. Upon completion of the Church of the Holy Sepulcher, a portion of that most holy Cross was placed inside it – and it was raised up (exalted) for all to see. That Church was dedicated and people were invited to venerate the Cross on September 14, 326 A.D. It is this event that we celebrate on the Feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross.

Return to Sender. In 614 A.D., Persia invaded Jerusalem. Persian Emperor Khosrau II decided that as the ultimate jab at the power of the Christian-based Byzantine Empire, he would have his men seize the true Cross and take it to Persia. And that's he did. This caused much grief and agita, along with wailing and gnashing of teeth by the Christians and the leaders of the Byzantine Empire of the day. Upon the death of Khosrau in 628 A.D. it was announced by his successor, that the Cross would be returned to Jerusalem. And so, it was! In 629 A.D., the Byzantine Emperor, Heraclius, received the Cross in Constantinople (which was like the Washington, D.C. of the Byzantine world, but without the 6% sales tax), and then returned it to Jerusalem.

Carry On! It is said that upon the Cross arriving in Jerusalem, Heraclius took it upon his back and carried it the rest of the way to the Church of the Holy Sepulcher. When the Emperor went to carry the Cross into the Church, a mystical force held him back. The Patriarch (Archbishop) of Jerusalem counseled the emperor to divest himself of his regal garments and dress instead in peasant-like, penitential garb. The Emperor did this, and then was easily able to carry the Cross into the sanctuary of the Church and lay it to rest there. I mention this story of Emperor Heraclius, because it is held that this feast day celebrates not just St. Helena's finding of the Cross and building and dedicating the Church of the Holy Sepulcher as its place of repose, but rather, it also celebrates the restoration of Cross in that Church by Heraclius.

The Instrument of Salvation. Whatever the case of the basis for this feast, it can be said with some certitude that the driving force behind the actions of St. Helena in the fourth century and Emperor Heraclius in the eighth century, was the salvific value of that Holy Cross because on it once hung our Savior Jesus Christ. It is the Son of God who made that Cross not just an instrument of execution, but rather sign of salvation for a mankind that was hoary with sin and sought, desperately, a Messiah.

Meanwhile 1,692 Years Later. Holy Cross Parish is blessed to have a relic (a small remnant) of that True Cross found by St. Helena. And at the end of Masses at Holy Cross this weekend – as is a custom in the Catholic Church – the Priest will give his final blessing with that relic of the True Cross. And we are then connected historically, not just to the events at Calvary in 33 A.D., but also to the powerful actions of St. Helena. Just as the people on September 14, 326 A.D., gathered to venerate that Cross, so too, 1,692 years later, we are likewise awed with this holy relic and give thanks and praise to God for the good that was wrought on that Cross by our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

And so, whether at Holy Cross in Dover, or at Immaculate Conception in Marydel, or at any parish in the Catholic Church, the Feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross is holy day worth reflecting on and remembering. Dominus vobiscum!

Yours in Christ,
Fr. James Lentini

SCHOOL UPDATE

All great events are characterized by a singular culmination, a clashing of cymbals, if you will. As one who appreciates classical music, I positively revel in the dramatic crescendo of Tchaikovsky's 1812 Overture with the blasting of cannon and fireworks. It's truly spectacular! Beethoven's Fifth...the slow building from soft to loud, minor to major and darkness to light is unforgettable. Much unlike Father Lentini, I am no movie buff, however, I can attest to the tugging of heartstrings and emotion evoked by the melodramatic performance of Miss Scarlett upon her return to Tara discovering the remaining ruins following the burning and destruction of the aristocratic homes in Atlanta. I suppose you might think that the first week of school and all that is associated with the excitement of the children and teachers might pale somewhat in comparison to the great highpoints cited above; and you might be right. But, I respectfully disagree...

- The Pre-K teachers and their new students enjoyed the annual scavenger hunt as their moms and dads patiently walked them around the room discovering all that their new learning space has to offer. It's a nice way for the little ones to become a little familiar with their classroom before the official first day when they have to say good bye to mom and dad.
- I didn't see anybody who wasn't having a blast in the Open House for the three year olds! Moms, dads, and their youngsters enjoyed plenty of play-time, music, and snacks... of course!! Mrs. Zappulo and Mrs. Feaster sure know how to plan a festive good time! This super-sized room is a magnificent space for learning and discovery. Loving the great big tree and peaceful sounds of the aquarium.....
- I enjoyed meeting with the seventh and eighth grade students who have met the initial qualification for consideration into our chapter of the National Junior Honor Society. Sixteen students received applications for membership. They will have to meet standards in Leadership, Citizenship, Community Service, and demonstrate participation in other activities such as sports, music, or service to the church. This presents no problem....these students possess inner drive, and are motivated to succeed. I always look forward to our candlelit induction ceremony. It is a lovely evening.
- Appropriately, the "crescendo" for our first week occurred in our church. We celebrated the new school year with our Back-To-School prayer service. I mean to tell you; this one had real heart! This school year we will participate in meditations on the virtuous actions related to each of the Ten Commandments. These meditations are called Heart Room Prayers. Everyone has a heart room. It is a quiet place inside our heart. It is a quiet place because nobody ever gets inside this little room except you and God...Jesus. Jesus is always there. It is His special place where He waits for us. With gentle guidance Mrs. McGowan lead us into our individual "heart rooms" where we listened as Jesus told us that He is our Lord, reminding us to be faithful to Him; always keeping Him first in our lives. He reminds us that he loves us more than we can ever imagine. Gently and quietly we were lead out of our heart-rooms; we opened our eyes, breathing quietly in and out, remembering our promise to Jesus...to be faithful to Him, always.

Cemetery News

If you've been at our cemetery recently you've probably noticed something going on around the mausoleum. Construction is underway to expand the mausoleum area with the long awaited open air chapel. Due to the increasing trend towards cremation, instead of another mausoleum the area will include four columns to support the roof with the plan for three columbariums between the columns. Initially, there will be a single columbarium between the two center columns with two additional columbariums being added down the road as the need dictates. Inside the chapel area, the first columbarium will provide 48 new cremation niches in addition to the existing single and double casket crypts. Stay tuned for more information. Sorry for any inconvenience or concern this may cause. Questions should be directed to Len Dornberger at 674 -5787 x135.

During the Mass, prayers to the Holy Spirit for guidance are offered for all who seek justice. The St. Thomas More Society of the Diocese of Wilmington has sponsored the Red Mass annually since 1988.
