Information About Reception of the Sacraments

The seven Sacraments of the Church were instituted by Christ to confer grace.

Sacrament of Baptism. Call the parish office to register for the parents' pre-Baptismal instruction. For adults seeking to enter the Church and be Baptized, contact our Religious Ed. Office.

Sacrament of Penance (Confession). Children in our religious education program and school are prepared for Confession at age seven, as part of First Communion preparation.

Sacrament of the Holy Eucharist. Children in our religious education program and school are prepared for First Communion at age seven. Adults seeking First Communion should contact our Religious Ed. Office Sacrament of Confirmation. Young people in our parish are prepared for reception of Confirmation in the ninth grade (age 14). For adults seeking Confirmation contact our Religious Ed. Office.

Sacrament of Marriage. Couples planning for Marriage are to contact a parish priest or deacon one year in advance to set the wedding date and plan for pre-Cana instruction.

Sacrament of Holy Orders. If you believe you have, or someone you know has, a vocation to the Priesthood or Diaconate, please contact one of our parish priests.

Anointing of the Sick. For the Sacrament of Anointing of the Sick (sometimes called "Last Rites") administered by a Priest, a person or immediate family member must make the request. Late night requests may not be able to be answered until the next day. For a visitation to the sick, or Holy Communion to the sick, contact our parish office.

Dear Parishioner,

As I have noted many times before in this column, I find there to be a great deal of correlations between the game of baseball and our Catholic faith. And with the Phillies leading the National League East as of this writing (note: this is a not a misprint), and Holy Week upon us, I thought a laying out some of those correlations again.

A Lasting Treasure? Right now, with six wins and two losses, the Phillies are playing .750 ball (as of April 8). And question for fans like me who are joyful at this early season success is best summed up in the words of the Shirelles from their 1960 hit, "Will You Still Love Me Tomorrow" in which they ask: "Is this a lasting treasure / or just a moment's pleasure?" My fear is that it is the latter, so I'm not getting my hopes up just yet.

Get in the Game! As we enter this final week of Lent, Baseball is in -- dare I say -- full swing, and, hey, my team is winning! That being said, one of the key ways a winning team stays as a winning team is not by luck but by continued intense practice that see the players mastering the basics of the game. They need to keep up their key skills of throwing, catching, fielding, batting, etc., not just at the beginning of the season but throughout the season. Players must work to hone their skill but also identify what areas they need to work on to keep on playing at their best. It is likewise for us in Season of Lent: the faithful are the players; we get back to mastering the basics: not throwing, batting and fielding, but rather praying, almsgiving and fasting. These Lenten disciplines that help us to draw closer to God and get ready for the Easter Season (and the year ahead). We strive better our ourselves (and our standings) before the Lord.

The Long Game. And in wonderful distinction, unlike a baseball player, we are not just focused on this one good season. Nope. In Lent, when we see the victory of Jesus Christ over death ahead on the horizon at Easter, we know full well that that victory, won once, and won for all time, will never fade. His victory is not for the season, but for the long game. Thus, death will not get the last word, Christ will! Our efforts during that period of preparation will make our Easter joy that much more joyful, as Christ pitches a perfect game defeating the Devil and death!

HOLY WEEK. Before we can get to Easter, we have to make a profound journey in the Holy Week ahead. It is a week that will see Christ welcomed joyfully into Jerusalem on Palm Sunday yet condemned to death and crucified five days later. And, we, as Catholic are to engage with and make that Holy Week journey with Christ -- beginning on Palm Sunday, and continuing through Holy Thursday, Good Friday and Holy Saturday (the Triduum). Here are some thoughts and reflections on these days ahead:

PALM SUNDAY. On this day, we recall Jesus' entrance into Jerusalem before his crucifixion. As Jesus rode into the city on the "foal of an ass" (small donkey), the people of Jerusalem exult, throwing cloaks and palm branches on the road and praising him. Remembering this, at Palm Sunday Mass, we have a blessing of palms which the faithful hold as they process into church. The blessed palms are later kept in the home as a witness to faith in Jesus Christ, whom we welcome into our homes.

HOLY THURSDAY. On Holy Thursday, we celebrate the institution, by Christ, of the sacraments of the Holy Eucharist and Holy Order. At the Last Supper, on the night before Jesus Christ was crucified, he changed bread and wine into his own Body and Blood, and he commanded the Apostles and their successors (Bishops and their priests) to re-present this sacrifice. Thus, at every Mass, by way of transubstantiation, the bread and wine offered by the priest becomes Christ's Body and Blood again. As Christ and his Apostles retreated to Garden of Gethsemane later that evening to prayer, so, too, after Mass, the Eucharist is carried out of the Church to an "altar of repose." The faithful go that place of repose and spend time in adoration and praying with the Lord. Meanwhile, in the Church, with Eucharist gone, the tabernacle door is left open, showing it is empty. The altar is stripped, candles removed, and holy water drained. The Church is left unadorned, setting the stage for Good Friday.

GOOD FRIDAY. Good Friday is a day of fasting and abstinence. On Good Friday, at 3 p.m. -- the hour of Christ's death on the Cross -- the church gathers for "The Good Friday of the Lord's Passion." As our Lord is not present in the tabernacle, the faithful are commended to genuflect to image of the crucified Christ, before they sit. This service, which is not a Mass, includes a reading of the Passion, and veneration of the Cross (e.g., kissing or touching the wood of the Cross). The service concludes with distribution of Holy Communion (consecrated on Holy Thursday).

HOLY SATURDAY. Holy Saturday is a day of waiting. It is on this day that the Church fathers noted that Christ descended to the dead, to the so-called "Limbo of the Fathers" -- where those who died after the fall of man (by the sin of Adam and Eve) await the gates of Heaven to be re-opened. Today, the anticipation of peace between God and man, with the gates of heaven being opened again, comes into view. Or as put in the words of Psalm 24: "O gates, lift high your heads; grow higher, ancient doors. Let him enter, the king of glory!" But anticipation is not yet reality, and so on this day, in prayer and reflection, we wait at the Lord's tomb, we ponder what has transpired, and await His glorious resurrection. Likewise, Mary waits with us in hope for her son's victory over death, and the joy of his victory to come.

As Lent end, and the Christ's Passion pours forth, a tragic scene emerges: The Messiah is condemned to an ignominious death; a Savior is crucified, betrayed and denied. To go back to a baseball metaphor, things look tough, but a grand-slam and a win lay ahead -- more on this great moment of joy and victory on Easter.

Yours in Christ,
Fr. James Lentini
Pastor

SCHOOL INFORMATION

Slowly, but steadily they began making their way, some made their way down the hallways by way of a wheelchair. Some navigated their course very deliberately, a few assisted by a walking cane. And, there were several walkers in the assembling crowd as well. There, before us gathered a fairly large size group who had responded to the announcement that Stations were happening in the community room at 2:00 pm. Raj is the Director of Activities and has been my primary contact over the past five or six years when making arrangements for our eighth graders to visit The Little Sisters of the Poor Nursing Facility in Newark. I still don't know her last name, but she and I greet one another for our yearly hug as our eighth graders disembark the school bus that has transported us north to present the Stations of the Cross for the residents and a few staff members of the facility.

We arrive early enough to run through one practice session. The mood on the bus northward is always a little subdued. Pre-presentation jitters prevail. Mrs. White and I have tried to impress upon the students the need for voice projection. "Speak louder...they won't be able to hear you!! How many times did we say that over the course of the two weeks spent rehearsing the speaking parts? This was not to be a "traditional" presentation of the stations. There were many speaking parts by characters such as Pilate, King Herod, the weeping women, and the Blessed Mother. This rendition of the stations was being presented more as a play might be. It would be the first time we prepared the Living Stations in this format. Mrs. White and I knew that it would be lost on many of the residents if they could not hear. Standing in the hallway, in between helping to shuttle the residents to the community room, Raj was determining whether or not their voices would be heard. She, too, came in with some encouraging words for the students. With the last piece of advice given (put your lips on the surface of the microphone!) it was time to begin. With Jesus at the forefront with head bowed, an angry mob came from behind yelling the chilling words, "crucify him....crucify him." Soon the cross would be slowly walked down the center aisle by two somber guards and placed behind his back. Quincy, in the role of Pilate spoke as clearly as a pealing bell. And so began the presentation of the following thirteen Stations, as each person in the room walked the journey along the Via Dolorosa to the hill of the crucifixion with Ethan, Katie, and Rosemary impeccably and expertly narrating each station. The students did what they had come to do. They were truly awesome. Apparently a veteran of past performances, one of the Sisters was quick to tell Raj and I that "this was the best one yet!" I thanked her for her kind words. But, without sounding boastful, I concurred.

The students always enjoy a little food and fellowship afterwards in conversing with the residents. As some of the students assisted in the clean-up process, others were busy loading the bus for the trip back to Dover. The mood on the way south was a little more festive; everyone safe in the knowledge that Mrs. White and I were very proud of every single one of them.

We adore you o' Christ, and we praise you.
Because by thy Holy Cross, you have redeemed the world.

Marriage Moments

Holy Week is a sober time for all Christians as we remember a sacred meal (Holy Thursday), suffering (Good Friday), uncertainty (Holy Saturday) and rebirth (Easter). Talk about times in your marriage of special meals, suffering, uncertainty, and rebirth.

Parenting Pointers

Why do we call Good Friday - "Good"? Isn't it all about Christ's suffering and death? Yes, BUT, sometimes we have to go through suffering to get to the good stuff. Talk with your child about how a hard or sad time eventually led to good.

OTHER NEWS

Rachel's Vineyard Catholic Retreat

The next retreat is May 3-5, 2019 at Malvern Retreat House. The retreat weekend is a beautiful opportunity for emotional and spiritual healing for any woman or man who has struggled with abortion. For more info contact Nan Freeman at 302-333-1904 or visit rachelvineyard.org.

Retrouvaille

Tens of thousands of couples have healed their Marriages through Retrouvaille (Retro-VIE). If you know of anyone who could benefit from this program please pass it on. Couples learn to build communication skills and rediscover intimacy. Retrouvaille provides help for marriage problems, difficulties or crises. The next program in your area begins on the weekend of April 26 at the Family Life Center in Malvern, PA. Another weekend will be held in August. For more information, or to register for one of our weekends, visit our web site at: www.HelpOurMarriage.org or call 215-766-3944 or 800-470-2230. All inquiries are strictly confidential.

From Genesis to Jesus

Our Spiritual Support Group is now watching and discussing From Genesis to Jesus based on Scott Hahn's book, A Father Who Keeps His Promises. We meet on Monday mornings following 8:00 Mass (from about 8:30-10 am.) All are welcome! For more information, you can contact Carol Buggin at 674-3525. It is a wonderful way to view and understand God's Word and promises in the Bible and as we grow as a family and as beloved Children of God. Hope to see you there!

Good Friday Ecumenical Service and Way of the Cross

On Good Friday, April 19, there will be an Ecumenical Service sponsored by the Kent Ecumenical local ministerium. For more information about this event, please contact: Jon Rania at Christ Church 302-734-5731 or 302-245-1881.

Food Assistance Program

Catholic Charities Food Assistance Program will be making its monthly food cooperative distributions to Kent County clients at the Church of the Holy Cross on April 23, 2019. The food cooperative provides a monthly supplement of food basics to income-qualified clients, as well as recipes for the products featured in the distribution and information about nutrition and food shopping on a budget. Anyone interested in participating in the program should call 302-684-8694 and ask to speak to the food program coordinator. Information is also available in the Parish Office.

Dover Symphony

The Dover Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Donald Buxton, will conclude its 2018-2019 season on Saturday, May 4, 2019 with its annual Dover Days Pops Concert. The concert will be held at 3:00 p.m. at Calvary Church on East Lebanon Road (Route 10) in Dover.
